Open-Ended Responses

1. In what ways did your instructor make learning possible for you during the Fall 2023 semester?

Comments
Very easy to reach, offered tons of supplemental readings, did great work
He was incredibly considerate when it came to deadlines and attendance especially considering the hectic nature of the semester for both students and faculty alike. He did a pretty good job of explaining assignments and expectations.
Approachable lecture
Mr. Marsh is very kind and accommodating. Even though he has a busy schedule, he consistently responds to my emails with detailed replies. Additionally, he is very approachable and adept at addressing questions and understanding our needs.
He provided plenty of time in class to answer questions and consistently held office hours that were very helpful. Showing us real time in R what he was doing was also very helpful.
His office hours allowed for more in-depth instruction.
all ways

2. Which aspects of this course should be kept for future times this course is taught?

Comments
All of it? Don't have major structural complaints
I believe all course material was valuable and should be kept for future times this course is taught. Assignments could be more spread out throughout the semester but overall they were fair and should be kept.
The in class follow along format
I think course should keep Final Project since I could upload the project to my GitHub page significantly enhances my portfolio, making it easier to get an internships or job opportunities in the future.
The working through code in class was helpful. The environment encouraging questions should also be kept.
He his slides were very clear. If you were lost in class you can go back to his slides and catch back up.
